In applicants' remarks filed 11/10/05 applicants' argue that they have stated on the record that the species over which elections have been required are equivalent. However, in applicants' remarks filed 3/13/02 it is unclear that this is so. Applicants argue at one point that terms are interchangeable and at another that a search of one species will necessarily uncover art related to another.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 87-89 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bening et al 1990.

Bening et al 1990 teach nanotubules reacted with potassium chlorate in sulfuric acid (p. 420, "experimental section", under "oxidation"). Carboxyl groups are specified ("results and discussion" p. 420-21).

No claims allowed.

Applicants argue that Bening et al do not teach secondary oxidation, however, applicants' elected a carboxyl group which is taught by Bening et al as cited above.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
